ACTION ON LOCAL RACE TRACKS DEPENDS ON LEGISLATURE'S MOVE

Fair Grounds May Shift Its Stake Dates Forward, if Bill Against Betting Is Passed, While Course of the Union Track Is Undecided-Both Courses Awaiting Action From Jefferson City.

Young Fasorite, Not in Run-According to statements made by John ing as before announced. We would like to see a compromise bill adopted. If not, kinloch and Deimar dates may be shifted to the Fold Grounds. The Bets for St. Louis Hachmeister, secretary of the St. Louis Pair Association, racing will be conducted in this city at the Fuir Grounds track from April 15 until the end of the period eet by law, in case the bill against betting is passed next Tuesday.

In an announcement made yesterday, both President Henry Griesedieck and Captain P. J. Carmody of the Union Jockey Club said that they would decide on their course of action later and that count for "Father SUI" Euly, at odds of there would probably be no racing at lit or L lead mine of the best forces at the Natural Bridge road course if the bill against race betting was passed.

Billy Mr. Huchemeister said: "While President Tilles has not yet announced definitely what his plans are, I think it safe to say that we will open on the first day permitted by the breeders' law, and will race for the fifty-five days which will be open, under the statute, even should a law be passed making betting a felony. No emergency clause is attucked to that, and I think the local followers of the same would like to have a meeting for that period.

"So far as stakes are concerned, I think shot some of the smaller fixtures may be dropped, if the till against racing is passed. Otherwise, we will hold our meetthe brief he is a local for great and the property of the first term of the first te Kinloch and Deimar dates may be shifted to the Fair Grounds.

"The historic stakes, such as the Inaugural, Derby, Club Members' and Junior Championship, will probably be run regardless of conditions, inasmuch as their dates will be shifted forward to get within the legal limit, if racing is stopped here. We will probably have one fixture each week and will end up the game with a rousing meeting, if we are so compelled by the law. We are hoping, however, that some compromise will be adopted. Our exact policy will be made known by Mr. Tilles later."

Tilles later."
Captain Carmody said that it depended on public sentiment what course his association would take.
"If the bill is passed Tuesday, which makes betting on the races a felony, we may not hold a meeting this spring," he said, "as some of our directors do not believe in holding another meet in such a case.

"We will wait until that time to decide on our course. None of our stockholders went to start a meet which will be in conflict with what seems to be the opinion of the Legislature. In case a compromise bill is adopted, we will decide upon what to do.

"In that case, as we have stated before, we are always ready to take a certain proportion of the dates and to run for that time leaving the rest of the year open to the other courses. We have never wanted more than thirty or forty days of racing. If a compromise bill is adopted, we will be satisfied with that amount of time."

form.

Over at Camp Carlinal the Nichols has been working the regulars against the Recruits and his boys show up pretty well.

Nichols's backstopping department has been greatly strengthened by the acquisition of Warner. The New Yorker appears just as good now as he ever did, and there has not been a time in Jack's career as a catcher when he was not a star.

Nichols seems to have a likely lot of young pitchers, and Taylor will be better than ever.

In case Beckley does not show up well it is the belief at Marlin that Grady will succeed him at first base. Farrell, Shay and Brain will complete the infield, and the outfield will likely consist of Shannon, Clarke and Smoot.
